SUJAL SYMPOSIUM FOR HEALTH AND SOCIAL JUSTICE

GLOBAL REACH THROUGH LOCAL COMMUNITIES

Friday, November 18
University of Michigan
Rackham School of Graduate Studies

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

JOIA MUKHERJEE, M.D., M.P.H.

*Associate Professor of Medicine
Harvard Medical School*

*Chief Medical Officer
Partners in Health*

Joia Mukherjee MD, MPH is the Chief Medical Officer for Partners In Health (PIH), an international medical charity dedicated to providing a preferential option for the poor in healthcare. She is an internist, paediatrician and infectious disease specialist and an Associate Professor at Harvard Medical School. Dr. Mukherjee has been Chief Medical Officer of PIH since 2000, supporting PIH's efforts to provide high quality, comprehensive health care to the poorest and most vulnerable in partnership with local communities and health officials. In this pursuit, PIH operates in Haiti, Rwanda, Lesotho, Malawi, Sierra Leone, Liberia, Peru, Mexico, Russia, Kazakhstan and the Navajo Nation. Dr. Mukherjee's clinical focus in resource-poor settings has been HIV/AIDS, multi-drug resistant tuberculosis, mental health and most recently, ebola.

As an innovator, teacher, and mentor, she continues to build capacity of healthcare professionals and emerging leaders in the Global Health Delivery discipline. As an Associate Professor in the Department of Global Health and Social Medicine at Harvard Medical School, Dr. Mukherjee runs the Masters of Medical Science program in Global Health Delivery—a program to build research capacity among global health professionals from all over the world. She teaches infectious disease, Global Health Delivery and human rights to health professionals and students from US and international institutions.

Dr. Mukherjee's academic work and field experience include expanding HIV and TB services through the public sector and linking such programs to the revitalization of primary health care. Her scholarly work is focused upon generating a body of evidence to inform the development of health care delivery systems that can effectively address the burden of disease in resource poor settings. Dr. Mukherjee serves on the board of directors for Last Mile Health (Liberia), Village Health Works (Burundi) and Project Muso (Mali).
